

Mission Statement, Aims and Values

King's Group Schools' Vision Statement:

To be at the forefront of British education internationally.

King's College's Mission Statement:

Our mission is to provide high quality British education that delivers a transformative learning experience to all our pupils. Engaging and effective teaching and learning based on our core values and the best, most up-to-date UK educational practice enables children at our schools to achieve their academic ambitions. At the same time we nurture their individual talents and emphasise the importance of educating the whole child with attention to their physical, emotional and social development. We are determined to make a positive difference to the future of our pupils and their families, the careers of our staff, whilst contributing to the wider community.

Educational Aims:

- To provide a learning environment that educates and develops independent learning skills and attitudes which build self-confidence and encourage creativity. We nurture enquiring minds so that they reach their full potential.
- To strive to achieve consistently outstanding educational results for all our pupils, benchmarking ourselves against the best schools in the world.
- To deliver a British curriculum which is supported by evidence-based research and best-practice at the most successful maintained and independent schools in the UK.
- To ensure that our pupils reach the highest levels of fluency and confidence in their use of the English language.
- To encourage pupils to lead healthy lifestyles through diet, exercise and sport.
- To prepare and equip pupils for the demands of the future in a rapidly changing, dynamic and diverse global environment.
- To ensure effective governance and management of the Group and the schools, making the best use of resources and information to achieve and maintain an efficient, effective and sustainable business.
- To promote excellence in our schools by employing teaching professionals who are passionate, knowledgeable and highly skilled experts in their field.
- To invest in our people through effective professional development, training, career planning and talent management.
- To promote and sustain a safe, caring, supportive culture inside and outside the classroom.
- To support and actively contribute to our local and wider communities
- To recognise and celebrate achievement and excellence in everything we do.

Values and Beliefs: Faith, Honesty and Courage

- We value the contributions of all our stakeholders to school life.
- We believe in professional leadership.
- We value dedication and commitment.

- Our educational principles are founded upon traditional Christian values, fostering self-confidence, tolerance and a sense of responsibility.
- All our pupils are entitled to a high-quality education, grounded in sensitivity to individual dignity, and a positive and nurturing environment.
- We promote outstanding teaching and learning.
- We recognise and celebrate academic excellence and achievement.
- High quality education is based on a collaborative approach to teaching.
- Innovation in teaching and learning should be informed by research and effective practice.
- Technology should be used to improve the quality of teaching and learning.
- We contribute to the lifelong education of individuals.

King's College's Core Values:

The Core Values we consistently strive to nurture in our pupils underpin the everyday environment in which the whole community interacts at all levels: pupils, staff and parents. We believe that having such values deeply-rooted will enrich our pupils' lives within and beyond their experience of the school, making them happy, fulfilled and positive contributors to society.
